

Math Lab

The objective of Math Lab is to support the topics taught in regular math classes, but students get extra time and support, and a different approach, when needed. A second objective is to build confidence in math. When a student is not confident in his/her skills, they will feel the material and concepts are more difficult than they truly are. By building their confidence and a solid foundation, they will become more successful in their regular class, and in the future.

Tutorials are on Tuesday mornings from 8:15-8:45 AM. Other days may be available but needs to be arranged ahead of time.
