Wednesday, December 18th and Thursday, December 19th are early release days. Students are dismissed at 1:25.

Important Note: While all other classes will not have a cumulative exam in December, they will have one in May. For December, though, instruction will continue through the four-day week that ends the semester. Teachers will also be looking ahead to the second semester, and in many cases pre-assessing what students already know about upcoming units so they may plan their instruction more effectively when the second semester begins. Therefore, attendance is crucial.
